PROFILE

I have previously worked within the IT field as a contractor. I am looking now to solely focus on software development. I've found that I enjoy the challenge it involves & the many opportunities for creative problem solving it presents. I am committed to continuous personal development & keep up to date with changes. I have extensive knowledge & experience within this field & I am very capable at all aspects of development. I am currently seeking long-term contract positions which will allow me to further improve my skills. I am looking to grow as part of a team & eventually take on responsibility for larger projects.
